Fiona practices exclusively in the area of Family Law. Her practice covers the full range of Public and Private Law applications and she represents parents, children and local authorities in cases involving all aspects of child care law.

She is widely regarded as one of the most experienced and effective advocates in Manchester and is regularly instructed in complex cases involving historic sexual abuse, multiple injuries, FII and cases with an international element, including abduction.

Fiona has a calm, approachable style. Those she represents appreciate her ability to give sensible and practical advice outside court whilst ensuring that their interests are properly protected and promoted. Her incisive advocacy, grasp of detail and high quality written work means that her clients are always well represented.
