

Pauline Le Tixerant

Year of Call: 2015

Pauline joined Chambers as a tenant following a successful Business & Property pupillage under the supervision of Dr Michael Wilkinson.

Pauline has a broad commercial and chancery practice with an emphasis on litigation. She is especially interested in contractual disputes, contentious wills and probate, property and agricultural matters, and competition/distribution law. Her growing practice involves both court work and paperwork both for claimants and defendants.

Pauline accepts instructions in multi tract and fast track matters, disposals as well as interim applications and will represent clients at mediation. She works with a wide variety of clients including SMEs, landlords and tenants, local authorities, and administrators/liquidators.

Prior to joining Chambers, Pauline worked in the area of competition law at the European Commission and at the US law firm Skadden Arps. Building on her expertise of EU antitrust matters and international merger transactions, she subsequently returned to London to work at the Competition and Markets Authority before moving to Manchester.
